“ Dear Family of Geri Cook, and dear Frank:

Earlier this week, I received a message of dear Geri's sudden, unimaginable and untimely demise. I was distraught and deeply saddened by this unexpected news. It was most difficult to fathom that she has left us and we shall not see her any more among us.

The second week in March I was fortunate to interact with Geri twice during our Wednesday night dance lesson when Geri typically assisted our dance instructor in demonstrating the routine at hand and then also at our Friday night dance. On both occasions Geri was pleasant as always and assisted any dancer who need a bit of extra coaching.

Geri and I shared not only the love of dancing but also the challenge of learning foreign languages. Both of us were language teachers and we used to converse only in French.

Geri and I always exchanged ideas on myriad subjects. She was educated, well read and well informed. She was an avid ballroom dancer, and a great listener, who carried herself with dignity, modesty and style.

One Wednesday evening, walking together towards our parked cars, (after Ed's dance class), Geri shared some biographical notes of her studies and teaching abroad. She was a very interesting lady, who had a lot to offer.

To Geri's husband Frank, her family and friends I wish to send our condolences and deepest heartfelt sympathy.

May she continue to dance with or for the angels to her heart's content tirelessly as she did for all of us. May her memory be eternally blessed.

I am certain that those who knew Geri will keep her everlasting memory in their hearts.

Geri, dear friend you will be missed by all those who knew, loved and appreciated you.

Parting is such sweet sorrow.
